NO BS On How To Get Your Ex Back With 3 Texts!

THIS EXCLUSIVELY REPORT IS ONLY INTENDED FOR MEN THAT WANT A SERIOUS RELATIONSHIP

If you are a player, cheater, womaniser, abuser, a bad boy or have any addictions, this document is not for you!

Who is this for?

The guy who knows he has lost the love of his life and just can't figure out what the hell to do to get her back and make things right.

The Stats

The number of couples who call it quits after a year or so is staggering.

According to executive editor and founder of Cupid's Pulse Lori Bizzoco found a reported study that indicated about 70 percent of straight unmarried couples break up within the first year.

One year is often where the honeymoon fades, after that all of the love drugs that float through our brains begin to wear off. Many relationships especially men tend to blag their way to get a date.

Within 3-6 months your partner gets fed up of all the blags and sees your true lazy or lying self. But she has already falling for you so hopes that overtime you will change.

One year is often the time when it becomes clear that the person is who they are, and hasn't changed into the person they lied and said they were in the first place.

When the fog of new-relationship bliss wears off, this is when couples have to decide if they like or love each other, warts and all. Often, the answer is NO!

It's smarter to end something if the person doesn't seem serious about you. According to Helen Chen, whose marriage philosophies have been quoted in over 200 media publications in 18 countries, over 85 Percent of Dating Ends Up In Breakups.

Do You Feel Like This Guy? How Long Before She Will Get With Someone Else?

SO HOW DO I GET MY EX BACK?

Firstly, Stop The Blag!

Women instinctively know that you are bullshitting (I call it the women's internal bullshit radar) but women pretend we don't know your blagging if we fancy you and want to be with you.

We then cover up and suppress your blags with denial, as we want to believe things will change or you will become our prince charming.

If you want to get her back then stop chatting shit and Just Be Your True Self. Believe it or not, if you was with her for over 3 months you've already done the hard work and she's fallen for you. So you can now be you!

Next Step Is To Show Her That You've Changed.

I will show you how to do that in a text, BUT....You Must DO IT RIGHT!

Firstly, stop stalking her. If she doesn't see you she is more likely to want to see you. You will be keeping you fresh in her mind by the texts.

So cut out the "apparent accidental" meeting down the local shops. Stalking!

Secondly, make sure you are working on yourself or have made the changes of why the relationship broke in the first place. I can pretty much guarantee this will get her back interested in you. But if you're still an idiot then she will just dump your ass again. And there will become a time when she won't have you after that!

Just to be CLEAR! You Must stick to what I've put below. Don't divert, get vex, respond with extras or reply sooner or later than what I have stated. If not.... DON'T BOTHER!

So let's get started!

- 1) Send her a text ONLY saying... I apologise and miss u like CRAZY. That's it. Nothing else.

She is probably use to your pages of angry bullshit, nothing at all or a weird combination of the both. This will intrigue her and is probably different to what you usually text.

Many people say "I'm sorry" where if you put I apologise instead, this is known as a pattern interrupt and she may start to see things/you differently from the off.

If she replies and you can tell she is still upset, don't get pulled into the argument. At the end of her rant text put ... I understand Jane. (or whatever her name is)

If she replies and states something like. "I'm sorry, but we are done" then text her back, I understand. But I won't stop loving you Jane. (or whatever her name is)

2) The next day send her a broken heart emoji and put...
I'm lost without you. Can you forgive me?

If she still replies with a rant, then reply. I'm sorry I keep hurting you. NOTHING ELSE. Then if she replies again still angry, reply only with a sad face emoji. If she replies again after that then ignore it, do not reply, leave it for that day but the very next day then complete step 3.

If she replies yes because she forgives you, then reply with smiley face emoji and I love you

Then... After the "I love You" text above, text her

3) Third and final text.

Make her smile and get a date!

Think of her favourite drink and meeting place. For example I love hot chocolate and my favourite hot chocolate is at Costa. So text something like... Hot choc? extra large, double wiped cream, 2 sugars with lemon muffin on the side at Costa. Can you squeeze me in for a 10 minute apology babe?

This will make her smile and soften her emotions. Plus she will know that you are thinking about her by mentioning her favourites drink.

And by stating to meet for only 10 minutes and that you want to apologise, will heighten your chance for her to meet you as she will not see this as confrontational because you have not mentioned let's talk about us, which is a normal thing to say and when arguments happen.

Plus in only 10 minutes no argument can happen.

TIMING

Arrange to meet her for coffee the next day. The same day is too pushy and 2 days later or more is too long.

The Meet!

Remember.... Don't get pulled into any arguments.

And...

Let her offload so she can see that you can listen without justifying anything.

This simple task is less than a sentence long but is normally a Game Changer.

But if your ex is still vex, maybe you left it way too long or maybe you cheated which is a tuffey to overcome or maybe you just kept messing up. The Ultimate Question Is... When Did You Stop Making The Effort?

All of these things are tuff for your ex to overcome but.... it can be done! ANY relationship can be solved, and the good news it`s all in your hands. I can pretty much guarantee you can get your ex back.....

Here is the question though... Are you prepared to do what it takes? Some guys make hardly any attempt to get back with their ex`s and when she finally does agree to meet, some guys go completely back to how it was before.

So What`s Important To You About Your Ex?

Is She The One?

If you have done what I have said to do in the texts and still no joy, but you know that your ex is the one, then you need to decide to up your game! BIGTIME

(That Means Far More Effort)

IF SHE AGREES TO MEET YOU OR SHE DOESNT... THEN WHAT????

Be honest with yourself....

Was you shit in the relationship? Did you have no idea what you was doing or what she wanted? Is this a pattern that you keep splitting up with chicks?

Look... It`s not your fault. There is no schooling or education on how to make relationships work.

So....

Do you really want to keep this relationship and settle down? Then You Need To Know What Women Really Want.

Those texts are not hard! Like I said, less than a sentence long but it is exactly what women want to hear.

So you need to know what women want from a relationship. Just like the texts, it`s not hard to do once you know what to do or say. So don`t just get her back.... KEEP HER!

Are you tired of getting on that hamster wheel of frustration of trying trying trying.

Give up on trying and now you can KNOW exactly what to do

Wanna know how?

I have everything for you to have the very best happy ever after loving relationship

You need to learn this before she`s gone for good!
